Fact Sheet

Despite the stability of statewide trends, crime rates at the local level have varied considerably. Changes in urban crime rates from early 2017 to early 2018 ranged from a 20.8 percent decrease in Antioch to a 15.7 percent rise in Lancaster. Overall, 17 cities reported increased total crime during this one-year period, and 56 cities showed

ANTIOCH — For the second time in three years, voters here are being asked to consider a half-cent sales tax hike to boost the city's police force and code enforcement staffing.

If Measure C is approved on Nov. 5, Antioch shoppers would pay an extra nickel for every $10 spent for the next seven years, as the sales tax would rise to 9 cents per dollar.

Supporters say it will help to hire some 22 police and code enforcement officers, bringing the total number closer to where it belongs after five years of cuts.
